DID YOU KNOW ABOUT THE SBE WHEN YOU WERE AT UNIVERSITY?

If not, how can we change that for today's students? Membership of the SBE benefits young economists as they prepare to embark on their careers, and our student members are an important part of the life (and the future) of the Society. If you'd like to help students at the university where you studied find out about and engage with the Society, and help the Society better to serve its members, we'd like to hear from you! Recent graduates and younger members would be particularly welcome; just contact the Secretariat to find out more.

SBE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING, 24 November (papers to follow)

Council members play an important part in directing the Society's activities. The Council comprises 12 members elected for a 3-year term. One third of the Council retires each year by rotation, with the option of standing for re-election at the AGM. Nomination forms are available from the SBE Secretariat. Any SBE Fellow or Full Member may, with the support of a Fellow or Full Member seconder, nominate another Fellow or Full Member to serve. Nominations should be sent in writing, with the seconders name and the written consent of the nominee, to the Hon. Secretary, c/o SBE Secretariat, no earlier than 30 October and no later than 17 November.

RYBCZYNSKI PRIZE 2014

Now is the time to start thinking about entering this year's competition for the Rybczynski Prize. This prestigious award is given to the year's best piece of writing on an issue of importance to business economists, and offers the opportunity to help your own work gain a higher profile among professional colleagues. A prize of £5000 is offered, generously sponsored by KPMG.

Essays, which must be submitted by 8 December 2014, can be written especially for the competition or have been published during the course of 2014. The judges will be looking for around 3000 (with an absolute maximum of 4000) well-written words. An entry form is enclosed.
